The trails are multi-use and part of the historic wagon trail. On trail you can enjoy views of the Marble Mountain Range. The trails are wide with very little elevation change, it is pretty flat for BC standards. There are lots of rocks in some areas so hoof protection is recommended.

Base camp is at a private residence with camping in a hayfield. No fires allowed (including propane fire pits). Horse water is supplied. The water is potable and safe for human consumption. There is cell service at base camp. A convenience store with gas station and a pub with restaurant are within walking distance. There are a few outdoor stalls available for rental if you need one.
